

PARTICIPANT ACCIDENT INSURANCE

FOR HEALTH AND
FITNESS FACILITIES

THE CASE FOR COVERAGE

Whether you run a cycling studio, 24-hour gym, rock climbing gym or local runners club, accidents can happen as members push themselves to their physical limits. On average, more than 1,200 exercise-related injuries occur every day from a variety of hazards that may include dropped weights, equipment malfunction, and heavy weightlifting.*

Participant Accident Insurance provides benefits that help to cover injured members' medical bills and out-of-pocket expenses following a covered accident.

Although many facilities require members to sign a liability waiver, general liability plans may not cover accident-related expenses and will not take effect unless legal action is taken.

Participant Accident Insurance pays claims regardless of negligence and may help health and fitness facilities fill potential coverage gaps by covering accidents under a separate, standalone policy.

HOW WE MEET YOUR NEEDS

Activity-specific coverage ensures that health and fitness facilities and their members only pay for Accident Insurance that covers them when they are involved in a sponsored activity.

Coverage flexibility through Accident Medical Expense benefits that are available on either an excess or primary basis.

No fault Accident Insurance pays claims regardless of who was responsible for the accident.

General liability coverage is enhanced with a standalone accident policy that may help to lower the frequency of general liability claims and/or lawsuits, potentially reducing premiums for the organization.

May help to reduce overall out of pocket expenses not paid by primary health insurance plans and may help to minimize the impact of high deductibles.
